

A WHOLE LOTTA QUESO FOR THE CURE

Jack Allen's Donates Proceeds from Menu Item Sales and an Extra Dinner to Lone Star Paralysis

15 May 2011 Austin, TX Chef Jack Gilmore & Tom Kamm of Jack Allen's Kitchen donated $7,493 to the Lone Star Paralysis Foundation (LSPF) at the organization's annual gala event, April 29th. Only part of the restaurant's fund raising efforts for LSPF, Jack Allen's has raised approximately $35,000 for the Foundation, as part of its year-long efforts in support of the charity.

"The LSP folks do an amazing job each day, working on getting closer to the cure," said Gilmore. "What we do for them is part of our belief in giving back."

Not only did Jack Allen's support the LSP cause with the queso check, they came through doubly strong at the LSP benefit's live auction. While auctioning off the wine dinner also donated by Jack Allen's, the bidding became so fierce, that in the heat of the battle, Jack graciously offered to donate two dinners, to appease the bidders' appetites. "It was crazy, the way folks were going after Jack's wine dinner," said Doug English. "Thankfully, Jack has a super big heart, and gave us an extra dinner on the spot to double the donations raised."

Jack Allen's Kitchen serves bold, Texan inspired cuisine sourced locally using the best, freshest ingredients available; the restaurant is located at 7720 Highway 71 West, ¼ of a mile west of the "Y" in Oak Hill.
